EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Democratic Congressional Committee have figured up that they will have a majority of ten in the next House of Representatives, but count on losing the Congressman from Nevada. This shows how little faith they have in the Democracy carrying this State when no ask is in the field. The Democrats in Congress are too anxious to carry the next House to give up any districts that are at all doubtful, and they must have reliable information on which to base this supposition. This information was doubtless furnished by Mr. Fair. The Republicans will carry Nevada this Fall.

The revenue bill recently passed the House materially reduces internal revenue taxation. It abolishes the tax on bank checks, capital and deposits, on matches and perfumery, and on proprietary medicines; reduces the special license tax on tobacco dealers, and reduces to $4 the tax on cigars and cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per 1,000, and to 75 cents the tax on cigarettes weighing less than three pounds per 1,000.

A bill now before Congress, and likely soon to become a law, opens to homestead settlers the odd sections of railroad land hitherto only to be had from the Government by purchase. The land allowed to each settler is 170 acres, and if anyone under previous laws has not been able to acquire that amount he is authorized to claim whatever number of acres may be necessary to make it up, the residence and cultivation of land in his original entry, if he has made any, to be considered as making good his claim in his new entry, and it is to be deducted from the five years' residence required by law.

When a man comes out in a crowd and says he will not run for office he reminds one very much of that other man who pinned a temperance badge on his coat so that some one would ask him to take a drink under the mistaken impression that he would refuse.

Grandma Garfield is still with her daughter in Solon, Ohio. She receives an immense number of letters of condolence, including many from cranks. One woman wrote that she was 300 years old. When grandma read it she exclaimed: "That's another crank!" Another lady sent her a family bed-quilt. The old lady takes great interest in politics and the movements of all the prominent politicians. Those who are near her say it is easy to see where the late President got his natural love for politics. She is more cheerful over her less than many believe, and is in good health. The old lady is very ambitious, and insists on doing a share of the housework, which is the only request denied her.

An Eastern paper says: Gradually the Mississippi river is subsiding, and some estimate can be made of the damage done to Illinois by the bursting of the levee near Quincy. Until a total subsidence of the waters and the return of the river to its ordinary bed the exact loss cannot be determined, but it is estimated that a total of $3,000,000 is rather under than above the actual loss sustained, which principally falls upon the farming community, many of whom have been deprived of cattle, crops and their means of subsistence during the coming winter.

In his speech in the House on the naval appropriation bill, Robeson said of San Francisco that there was sufficient water in the Golden Gate to allow the largest foreign ironclads to enter. The water rushed in and out with such velocity that stationary torpedoes could not be anchored, and the city must be defended by ironclads. With the Monitor and Comanche to cruise at the entrance of the harbor, and two torpedo boats to attack invading ships, no fleet in the world could successfully bombard the city.

When the fast trains now operated between New York and Chicago arrive at the end of their run, each engineer steps to the front of his locomotive and brushes the dead birds from the plate over the "cow-catcher." Birds miscalculate the speed of these trains, and attempt to fly across the track immediately in front of the engine, and are struck by the smokestack or headlight, and fall dead upon the plate at the boiler-head.

The Baltimore and Ohio Company proposes to lay two cables, under the provisions of the bill now in the House, one landing between Boston and New York and running to England, the other landing near Norfolk and running to Portugal by the Azores or Bahama Islands.

The Fourth at Cedarville.

SALT MARSH, July 8, 1882.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—As I promised I will give a few items of the celebration held at Cedarville, Modoc Co., Cal., on the 4th of July. Not being an eye witness I will endeavor to give the news as given to me.

The celebration was a success, everybody for miles around being present. Accommodations were scarce, quite a number having to return home on account of not being able to secure accommodations. The exercises of the day had to be cut short on account of a heavy thunder storm or rather cloud burst, filling the streets to almost flooding with mud and water.

The races were postponed until the 5th. Great interest was manifested in the races to make them a success, and no doubt such would have been the case if no accident had happened. On the night of the 5th in some way access was gained to the stables of two of the most prominent horses, which were given oats and morphine. The horses thus "doped" were "Smoker," owned by Alexander, and "J. G. Blaine," owned by J. G. Blaine, of Bidwell, the former of which died on the night of the 7th. Mr. Blaine's colt is not expected to survive. No clue to the guilty party has been obtained.

Two races came off on Saturday.

M. D. Haynes & Co. are receiving large quantities of goods every day. The stage from Cedarville to Alturas leaves crowded every other day.

No mail from Reno, further than Cedarville has been carried over Ayers & Calderwood's stage line since the 1st of July.

Struck by Lightning.

We published the news several days ago of the death of Wm. Leith, Jr., by being struck by lightning. The Susanville Advocate of Saturday supplies the particulars:

Last Monday afternoon during the prevalence of a shower accompanied by thunder and lightning, general throughout this valley, two men were struck and one instantly killed. The particulars are as follows: Wm. Leith, Jr., a young man about 31 years of age, and who has resided with his parents in this country since 1864, was on the way from his home near Janesville to the residence of a neighbor for the purpose of borrowing a wagon for which to visit Susanville on the Fourth. This was about 2:30 p.m. and during the shower. At a point opposite Charley Barham's place he met Mr. J. Grass. They were both in their wagons and stopped for conversation. They had exchanged but few words when the casualty occurred. Leith was knocked back over the seat into the bed of his wagon, his team running away. Grass' horses were knocked down and himself stunned, probably by the force of the concussion. Leith's team kept the road but ran on until stopped at Theodore's ranch, by Henry Tyrrel. It was sometime before the body was recognized the head and face being badly burned. The electric flame struck Leith on the right side of the head, and ran straight down that side of his body. His clothing and the wagon were on fire when found.

The casualty occurred about five miles east of Janesville, and about 100 yards west of the bars leading into Mr. Conger's place. As soon as Mr. Grass recovered consciousness he made his way to Conger's residence, taking down piece of the fence to get there, and together they set out to look for Leith. Observing that his team kept in the road, they concluded that Leith's team had run away.

Fast Trotters.

It is a remarkable fact that out of the large number of horses that have trotted in 2:30 or better there are but sixty-five that have beaten 2:20. In this list there are thirty-four geldings, twenty mares, and only eleven stallions. St. Julien, with his 2:11 1/4, stands at the head of the record for geldings, and Maud S., with 2:10 1/4, stands at the head of the mares; and this is also the best time on record. Of the mares that have trotted better than 2:20, eight out of the twenty were bred in Kentucky—Maud S., So So, Triquet, Croxie, Lady Thorne, Lucille Goldust, Lula and Proteins. Of the eleven stallions that have trotted better than 2:20, six out of the eleven were bred in Kentucky.

TRIFLES.

A boy defined salt as "the stuff that makes potatoes taste bad when you don't put it on." He was twin brother of the boy who said that pins had saved great numbers of lives by not being swallowed.

He promised to cleave to her, and when they went to the theater and he came back between the acts with a piece of cork in his whiskers, she knew from the fragrance he exhaled that he had clove.

A very popular item is to the effect that Senator Wade Hampton's daughter is going on the stage. Wonder where the young lady is going?

THE WORLD IN BRIEF.

The best butter in New York costs $1 a pound.

Six hundred people signed the petition for Guita's pardon.

The taxes in Brooklyn are likely to be about $30 on every $1,000 as assessed valuation this fall.

It is reported that Mrs. Scoville has applied for a divorce at Waukesha, Wis., from her husband on account of his failure to support her properly.

A company of Second Adventists in Texas have gone so far as to prepare a tent for the Saviour's occupancy, with a handsome bed and other furniture.

Tipton, Iowa, a town of only 1,500 inhabitants, is lighted by electric light. It is the smallest town in the world in which the light is in general use.

An Iowa man was sold out by the Sheriff the other day. After the operation he suddenly remembered that he had $12,000 in gold buried. He went and dug it up and was happy.

Miss Ella Cleveland, of Pawlet, Vermont, has been for two years entirely helpless and confined to her bed. On Thursday she arose and was able to walk a short distance. Since then she has rapidly gained health and strength. Miss Cleveland attributes her recovery to prayers offered in her behalf. The case excites considerable comment.

The richest individual man in the world is W. H. Vanderbilt, who is credited with the possession in negotiable property of two hundred million. The Rothschilds have more than this, but they comprise about twenty people. No one member of that firm can equal the New York millionaire in wealth.

The youngest pensioner of the Government is James W. Crandall, aged 15, who lives with his widowed mother at No. 1901 Christian street, Philadelphia. A year ago last March he enlisted in the navy, and soon afterward was sent to Southern waters on the Constitution. A fortnight later he was stricken with typhoid fever, which left him stone deaf. The surgeon thought he was shamming to procure a discharge, and to test his hearing had him placed between two of the largest guns, which were then simultaneously discharged. He stood like a statue, whereas the officers expected to see him jump like a roebuck. He felt the deaf tremble but heard nothing. He draws $13 a month. His brother John, aged 27, who fell from one of the yards of the Constitution and broke his arm, has applied for a pension.

We're gradually getting the conveniences of life. A man has recently invented a lie diagram. By it a man can keep track of all the lies he's been telling and carrying along, and, by reference to it, can see just where he left off on each one. This will prevent his getting entangled and contradicting himself. The chances are that within a month every man in the country will have one of these diagrams in his pocket "just for curiosity."

Sprague, of Rhode Island, owes more than a million of dollars. It takes years of patient industry and integrity to amass a debt of million dollars, and at times we get almost discouraged.—Boomerang.

Richmond has no street sprinklers, but depends on Providence to send a shower every three days to keep down the dust. She not only gets credit for faith, but also saves a heap of money.

A recipe for lemon pie vaguely adds: "Then sit on a stove and stare constantly." As if one could sit on a stove without stirring constantly.

INSANE ASYLUM VISIT.

Some of the Patients and their Peculiarities.

We visited the Asylum Saturday and through the kindness of Supt. Dawson, were turned out in the yard with the rest of the patients. Of the fifty or sixty men who were in the yard at the time all seemed quiet but two or three. Poor Alex McGregor is very violent and was abusing everything and everybody. He has done no harm to anyone so far, but does give all hands terrible tongue lashings. Friday he threw a rock at the building, whereupon a fellow-crank jumped him and began hammering him for trying to "knock down his new hotel," and before he could be taken off he had given Alex several heavy slaps. A colored man takes delight in showing his agility and turns a handspike as handily as anyone. An Italian danced a war dance, while an Italian told of the wonders of a little chain he held. "Jack" better known as "Be God" is very friendly and talkative. He inquired for all the boys and did not want to be forgotten. Another fellow told Dr. Dawson that he wanted to go now and earn his own living. A religious patient stood in a very meditative posture all the time, while another winked constantly and seemed wrapped in oblivion. A Frenchman was very talkative and entertained us with a stumpy speech of the most spread eagle fashion. Many seemed moody and meditative, and several hovered around our reporter sympathizing with the "new crank," until we got all we wanted of it. In the female ward we saw a most pitiful sight. A bedridden, palsied woman probably 75 years old, who talked like an infant, and yet was so violent that she had to be chained to the bed. She is a most distressing sight. A talkative Dutch woman took quite a fancy to this writer and insisted on escorting us down the hallway showing pictures in an illustrated paper. Another was strapped to a bench, but upon her promising to be quiet was released, when she jumped up and ran into a room with a rush. Every patient in the Asylum has an interesting history and we wish we had space to tell it. Everything about the Asylum is in first class order, the kitchen, laundry, wards are all now in thorough working order and everything goes as smoothly as could be expected in a new institution. The attaches are rapidly learning their duties and are already pretty well posted. As a rule the patients are docile and obedient, but the violent ones are very troublesome and need constant watching. So far not a dish has been broken nor an attempt made to carry away a knife or fork. Of course they are liable at any moment to attempt anything. One poor fellow hammered the plastering and lathing off a large space in his room and even broke through into the next room doing all this with his fist. Another bit a large mouthful out of the corner of a fence at one bite. From the little we saw on that one visit we are confident that the whole State of Nevada presented on a silver platter, could not tempt us to take care of them.

State School Monies.

Last year the money appropriated was $19,310 37—showing that the School Fund is well cared for. Next year it will be greater yet, for more money will be drawing interest. An investment of $50,000 was made a few days ago, the interest of which will go for the benefit of the public schools.

Masonic Patriarch.

Joseph De Bell has one of the oldest Masonic records on the Pacific coast. It runs from 1850 to 1854 and was presented him by Wm. H. Howard, Past Grand Master of California and founder of Virginia Lodge in Virginia City which was named for him and was known as Howard Lodge for many years. The book shows Mr. De Bell to have been initiated in 1853. He has been a Knight Templar since 1857.

AN INTERESTING CASE OF LUNG-TAPPING.

Life Prolonged Thirty Years by a Silver Tube.

One would hardly suppose that a person could run a lance into his side four inches, and into the lung at that, and live. Yet such is the case and we have a man who has done it in Reno. Mr. A. H. Barnes, of the Golden Eagle Hotel, has worn a silver tube for thirty years, thereby saving his life. An account of this remarkable surgery cannot fail to be interesting. The year 1849 Mr. Barnes, then residing at Sycamore, De Kalb county, Illinois, was pronounced an incurable case of consumption, being confined to his bed, entirely prostrated, and reduced to a mere skeleton. He has been afflicted with cholera, typhoid pneumonia, and pleurisy, finally resulting as above mentioned, and when he came under the treatment of J. M. Woodman, M. D., then of the same place, his life had been despaired of. The lower part of the left lung was rapidly decaying; there was violent coughing, accompanied by excessive expectoration, pains, sinking spells, etc., and it was considered that a short time would suffice for the dread disease to finish its work. There was the usual daily "hectic fever," followed by profuse night sweats, and the left lung, when submitted to examination by percussion, gave forth only the usual dull thud known in such cases. All the known "remedies" and soothing appliances, etc., were brought into requisition, as well as the skill of the best medical talent, but all to no avail. And now comes the interesting part of this narrative. Dr. Woodman and Mr. Barnes, on consultation, conceived the idea of tapping the lung, with a view to drawing off the accumulating matter which was causing so much pain and exhaustion in expectorating, as well as so rapidly carrying the victim to the grave. Long and earnest were the consultations, and as each day saw the patient failing a little, so each day gave him courage to have the operation performed. Pains and threatening from the other lung also hastened action. All medical men who were consulted scouted the idea, claiming that immediately upon the air striking the lung from an incision, the lung would collapse, and death result instantly. But, in the face of all opposition, it was decided to go ahead. All necessary preparations having been made, an incision was made between the sixth and seventh ribs. Then a large silver needle was inserted four inches directly into the lung, without meeting any solid substance. Then a silver catheter tube was inserted; when immediately there commenced a rapid discharge of thick, heavy matter, until over a quart has been discharged. To the great joy of all present, instead of any bad effects, there was immediate relief, and ease in breathing, the coughing and expectoration nearly ceased, and in a short space of time the patient dropped off into a quiet, refreshing sleep, from which he awoke, calling for something to eat. Of course, now all thoughts turned to saving the patient, and the doctor was daily and nightly at the bedside, daily repeating the operation of inserting the tube, for many weeks, each time drawing off a large amount of matter, and with his own hands lifting the patient from the bed when occasion required. Mr. B. all the time improving rapidly, the operation was continued at intervals for about one year, when comparative health was restored, and the daily discharge was only a few drops of colorless fluid, or slightly-colored serum. The upper part of the lung became active—but with diminished action—to about the sixth rib, where all respiration ceased. The orifice was now allowed to heal, the life saving silver tube was carefully laid away for future use, if ever needed, and Mr. B. went about his business in active life, for a period of thirteen years. During this time, he had frequent attacks of cough and pain; was at times confined for weeks in the house, in the meantime (1861) having moved to Honey Lake Valley, where, in 1862, he was taken with a severe cough, brought on by overwork and exposure. All the old trouble seemed to come back to him, and after nine months of intense suffering, March, 1863, found Mr. B. again prostrated and "on the brink of the grave." Now, again, the resident physicians were opposed to the idea of an incision, and after repeated appeals for an operation, which was refused, Mr. B. borrowed a lance and cut open his side himself. He then inserted a catheter, and drawing off nearly a quart of matter, immediate relief was found. The cough and expectoration stopped almost instantly, and Mr. B. was soon upon his feet again. The silver tube, which is over four inches long, was now inserted and has been constantly worn ever since, and from it there has been discharged each and every day from that time until about May 1st, 1879, about half a common tumbler full of thick, heavy matter and serum. Since May 1st, the discharge has been about half that amount, and principally serum, (the liquid portion of the blood after the separation of the coagulum or clot, of which albumen is the principal organic ingredient) and during the whole use of the tube there has been discharged in all about one hundred and twenty-five gallons. Some time in 1875 there appeared to be a callous or other hard substance on the inside, and the tube could not be inserted to full length with the usual pressure; also inward bleeding had taken place, which caused alarm, and death from strangulation was imminent, medical aid was summoned, and after long and persistent persuasion, H. H. Hogan, M. D., was induced to use force enough to push the silver tube through the hard substance. This being done, warm water was introduced by the use of a syringe, which developed the fact that the cavity caused by the decayed lung was filled with clotted blood and other matter in ropy substance, which being reduced was expelled as usual. As before stated, the tube has been constantly worn since 1863, and the least obstruction or stoppage of the discharge has always caused immediate suffering. The tube is easily heard as it touches the ribs on the inside of the back. It is held in place in front by a notch in the tube, into which the ribs shut and hold it. Mr. B. says that if it only run through on the back side and was held there in same way, he would have it all solid. The upper part (about half) of the lung is still somewhat active, and the decay seems just now to be partially arrested, and it is possible that by keeping the cavity free from the serum, there may be a complete healing and cure. The side is somewhat shrunken, and the lower ribs appear as one, solid, decayed bone, caused no doubt by the accumulation of matter in the cavity during the long period of thirteen years, when the tube was not in use. The right lung is sound and strong, and Mr. B. enjoys average health. Some time ago the orifice was again closed, possibly by clotted blood. Since then Mr. Barnes has endeavored to reopen the remarkable orifice, but has not been able to insert the silver tube. It seems as if the cavity has turned, and the tube, being straight, will not enter. He will have it fitted so that it will go in. In the mean time he has a good deal of inconvenience, because of weakness of respiration and perspiration. He is a man of very regular and temperate habits, does not use tobacco in any form, nor stimulus of any kind, hardly ever uses any medicine, excepting sometimes a little iron for the blood; is always feeling well when the hole in his side is open, sometimes feels a heaviness there, but has got used to that.

Patient Captured.

Sunday morning Dr. Dawson was on the V. & T. train going to Carson. When Franktown was reached Pat Mallon, who escaped from the Asylum a few days ago, was standing on the platform. Dr. D. went for him, and after a sharp run captured him and brought him back to his quarters. The Dr. would make a fine foot-racer.

Board of Pardons.

The Board of Pardons were in session in Carson yesterday. Five cases were disposed of. Wm. Somers, Rose Maygay and ——— Connelly were pardoned. Wm. Williams and another convict whose name we did not learn were denied pardon. There are twenty more applications on file. Alf Chartz will not apply this session.

Since the Insane Asylum was opened in Reno the other day two Renosites have been adjudged insane and sent out to the institution. That's just the way with that town; hogging everything. They're not satisfied with having the asylum down there; but they think they are entitled also to go further and endeavor to fill the blamed place with their people.—[Footlight.]

Reno is the most accommodating town you ever saw. Come down, and you shall have the best room in the Asylum—pantry excepted.

Pierre Humbert, Jr., the general manager of the Santa Maria mines, Mexico, and well known here, is east on a visit, accompanied by Philip Deidesheimer, who recently visited the property. They are confident the mines will yield abundant dividends. Several large stockholders have quite recently visited the property, and speak in equally confident terms of the great future in store.

All parties are notified to immediately desist from wasting any water into the English ditch or on the lands of Samuel Brown, situated near Reno. Unless this notice be complied with suits will be commenced against all parties so trespassing.

YOUNG

WHO may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. Spinney will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty, who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration to the genito-urinary organs. Office hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation free. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever acquired so wide a reputation of merit as so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it y you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.
